BUSA Council decision on the Nationalisation debate

Business Unity South Africa (BUSA) Council held its regular meeting to consider pertinent regulatory & legislative issues, as well as national policy matters including the ongoing debate on nationalisation.

BUSA Council agreed to engage various stakeholders as a way of participating in the debate. In preparation for our engagement, we will develop a content document, based on research and inputs from all fifty-four member organisations, that will inform our meaningful participation in the debate.

BUSA Council took a decision to engage the ruling party (the ANC) and any other relevant stakeholders in order to share our perspective on the matter. The purpose of this process is to seek clarity and an understanding of the basis of the current debate.
